

Contact Zones: Memory, Origin, and Discourses in Black Diasporic Cinema
Sheila J. Petty

Index by S. Jane Henderson, Indexplorations

Note: Italicized page numbers refer to photographs. Film characters' names are followed by (char.).

- Abena (char.): betrayal by, 149–51; conflation of personal histories and journalistic observation, 141; conflict between Danso and, 145–47; conflicted personal identity, 142; continued estrangement of, 152; deflection of responsibility by, 147–48; interior dialogue vs. psychological state, 143–44; return from exile, 138; and war zone of memories, 141, 153
- Abeyhoy, Neburaelid Mekuria, 167–68
- acculturation: and betrayal, 120–21; and fragmentation of indigenous societies, 111; migrants, and desires toward, 118–19; and rejection of Africanness, 99–100; of skilled laborers, 21
- Adamafio, Tawai, 135
- Adane, W. Efenesh, 173–74
- Adjei, Ako, 135
- aesthetic syncretism, 202
- affranchis*, in Haiti, 198–99
- Africa: as concept for African slaves in America, 21; estrangement between Afrocentrism and, 25; independence movements in, 136; postcolonial period in, 111; role of, in promulgation of slavery, 18; symbol of, in Sankofa, 50
- Africana men, 83
- African American consciousness, 108
- Africana Womanism, 9–10, 82–83, 87, 89, 261n. 4, 261n. 6
- African Canadianité*, 228–29
- African Canadians, 228–29. see also black Canadians
- African-centered discourse, in Sankofa, 28
- African cultures: emphasis on community in, 41–42; and evocation of African diasporic consciousness, 21; oral tradition in, 27, 64–65, 69, 166, 174–75, 260n. 3; portrayal of, in Sankofa, 33–34, 43; riddles in, 64–65; West African, 85
- African embassies, and immigrants, 124–25

Africanisms, 20–21

African slaves. see also slavery; slaves: in America, 17, 19, 21; in Canada, 224–26; in the Caribbean, 52; nonperson status of, 19– 20

African spirituality: as central element of Afrocentrism, 25; in Daughters of the Dust,
 89–90, 95–96; as factor in Africana
 Womanism, 83; in Gullah culture, 85

Afrocentrism, 23–26, 28–29

Akan language, 260n. 9

Akomfrah, John: background of, 137; Testament, 11–12, 129–30, 136–53

Algeria, 178, 188, 192–95

Algerian Revolution, 265n. 3 (chap. 7)

All Ethiopian Socialist Movement (MEISON), 169–70

American Civil War, 108

Amharic people, in Ethiopia, 159, 167

Andre (char.), 238, 240–42

Angola, 84

Antillanité, 56–58, 60, 79, 196–97, 228

Aristide, Jean Baptiste, 202

Asante, Molefi Kete, 23–26, 259n. 5

Assad (char.), 211–13

assassinations, in Ethiopia, 173–74

Azikiwe, Nnamdi, 130–36

Babylon, 232–34

Back to Africa movements, 7, 22–23

Battle of Algiers (Pontecorvo), 192–93

béké culture, 67, 72–74, 260n. 2

Bernabé, Jean, 58

Bhabha, Homi, 179

Bight of Biafra, 84

black Atlantic concept, 10–11, 104–9, 126

Black Audio Film Collective, 136, 183

black British culture, 136

black Canadian cinema, 229–30

black Canadians, 14, 224, 228–31, 234–35. see also Rude (Virgo)

black diaspora: complexities of arrival, 105; as composite formation, united and divided, 127–28; as field of identifications, 128; as global phenomenon, 115; problems in defining, 2–3

black diasporic cinema, 6–7

black diasporic communities: in Canada, 227–28; homophobia in, 243; localizing strategies in, 176; social disintegration of, in hood film genre, 248–49; and strategies of remembrance, 1–2

black diasporic context, 174–75, 234

black diasporic cultures, 5, 22, 106

black diasporic experience, 3–6, 28, 81

black diasporic identities, 105, 155–56

black diasporic space, 128

black diasporic theories, 5–6, 104, 107, 127, 155

black female experience, 9, 81, 86 black identities and identity: African center as defining aspect of, 34, 51; black diaspora and, 106; composite, in Sankofa, 36; conflicted, of exiles, 139; constructive, in Rude, 256–57; and double-consciousness, 109; expressions of, by African slaves in America, 21; Fanon's preoccupation with construction of, 179–80; power of myth and magic in, 101; Rastafarianism and, 231; representations of, in Rude, 234; role of slippage in creation of, 5; slippage in integrating transnational, 175

Black Loyalists, 225–26

black migrants: and Canada's open-door immigration policy, 227; and double-consciousness, 115, 119–20, 126;
 emancipated African Americans compared to, 118–19; in ex-colonial metropolises, 117– 18; in France, 109, 112–13, 115, 124; in postcolonial context, 111, 120–21

blackness: in Canada, 224, 228; and self-loathing, 72; and status, 68; as term, 80

black resistance, as marker of African resilience and heritage, 38

black separatism, 23

Black Skin, White Mask (Fanon), 176–78, 180, 183– 84, 190

black women: as arbiters of resistance, 219;
 discourses of, 9, 80, 261n. 1; identities of,
 African tradition as locus for, 83; selfhood of, 83, 96

black women's selfhood, 91

black youth culture, 243–44 bottle trees, 262n. 12

Brah, Avtar, 127, 138

Britain, 225

cagoulers, 207

call-and-response exchanges, 66, 68–69

Camille (char.), 211–15, 221–22

Canada, 14, 227

Canadian Film Centre, 230

Canadian filmmaking, 230–31

Capécia, Mayotte, 190–91

Caribbean Discourse (Glissant), 57

Caribbean experience, 52, 197

Caribbean identity, 57–59, 203

Carter, Robert "King," 22

Casbah, 265n. 3

Cedras, Raoul, 202

center-periphery dichotomies, 105, 111, 113, 120

Césaire, Aimé, 54–57, 63

Chambers, Iain, 4, 155

Chamoiseau, Patrick, 58, 60

Christianity, and slavery, 92

Christian religious symbolism, in Rude, 234

Christiansborg Castle incident, 131–36

Clarke, George E., 228–29

clientage, 259n. 2 (chap. 1)

Clifford, James, 2–3, 5, 12, 154, 156

cocoa prices, collapse of, 135

Code Noir (Black Code), 53–54, 225

colonial gaze, 12–13, 181, 184–86, 191–92 colonialism: defined, 109–10; and double-consciousness, 121–22; legacy of, 110, 136, 201; persistence of, in Caribbean, 197–98; as poisonous, 56; profits of, 117; and refusal of recognition, 189; strategies to maintain power, 117

colonizer/colonized relationship, 176–77, 188, 194 colonizers' metropolises, 111–12, 121

color politics in Martinique, 62, 71

Committee on Youth Organization (C.Y.O.), 132

community: absence of, in black Canadian identity, 225; as central element of Afrocentrism, 25; emphasis on, in African cultures, 41–42, 44–45; in Gullah culture, 85, 87, 89; and problem-solving approaches to social needs, 83

Confiant, Raphaël, 58

consciencism, 264n. 9

contact zones, as term, 259n. 1 (intro.)

Convention People's Party (C.P.P.), 132, 134–35, 138, 152

Creole, conceptions of, 60

Creole language, 58–60, 67–69, 213

Créolité, 58–60, 67, 69

creolization, 58, 196–97

cultural and social ties, destabilization of, 19

Curtis (char.), 247–48

da Costa, Mathieu, 266n. 1

Damas, Léon-Gontron, 54–55

Danso (char.), 138, 142–47

Dash, Julie: background of, 85–86; Daughters of the Dust, 86–103

Daughters of the Dust (Dash), 86–103, 88; overview of, 10; African-based spirituality in, 89–90; community, affirmation of, 87, 89; conflicting points of view in, 92–93; generational conflict in, 98–99; male characters in, 93–94; narrative of, 87, 91, 93–94; visual strategies in, 90–91

Davies, Carol Boyce, 261n. 2

de Champlain, Samuel, 266n. 1

Delany, Martin R., 23

Deluge (Mekuria), 154–75, 162; compared to Testament, 156; multinarrational approach to, 161–64; narrative and aesthetic elements in, 166; narrative structure and illustrations in, 163–64; as site of slippage, 12, 160, 165;

Daughters of the Dust (Dash) (continued): social critique in, 172–73; undelineated boundaries of history and myth in, 165; visual elements, repetition of, 166–67

Depestre, René, 13, 197

Derg regime, 161, 169–71

Dessalines, Jean-Jacques, 200

de Thorail, Jacques (char.), 73–74

dirge singers, 143–44 disappeared, the, 174, 209

domestic-worker crisis in Canada, 227 double-consciousness: black diasporic identities and, 104–8; black migrant and, 115, 119–20, 126; colonialism and, 121–22; DuBois and, 228; intersection of, with black Atlantic, 10–11; parallels to, 263n. 6; rejection of, as acceptable state, 125; wider definition of, 109 drug culture, 252–53, 255–56

DuBois, W. E. B.: double-consciousness concept, 10–11, 104–9, 119, 228, 262–63n. 2; influence of, on Dash, 91; influence of, on Nkrumah, 130; The Souls of Black Folk (DuBois), 107–8

Duvalier, Françoise, 204

Duvalier regime: and culture of terror, 207–9; interrogation of, in The Man by the Shore, 202;

Duvalier regime (continued): persistence of, 205; resistance to, successfully reduced, 216–17;
and rise of Duvalierism, 204; role of mulâtre in power of, 211; sexual victimization during, 221–22; violation of social prohibitions by, 209–10

Edwards, Norval, 196–97

Egypt (Kemet), 25–26

Eli (char.), 87, 95–96, 101

Elide (char.), 221–22

Elmina Castle, 259–60n. 6

Elmina (fortress), 30–31

Éloge de la Créolité (In Praise of Creoleness), 58

emancipation, and betrayal, 108

Emancipation Act of Britain (1833), 226 empowerment of black selves, 256, 258

Ethiopia, 156–59, 167, 169–71. see also Red Terror

Ethiopia Armed Forces, 159, 169

Ethiopian Christianity, 156

Ethiopian People's Revolutionary Party (EPRP), 170, 173

ethnicities, obliteration of diversity in, 32, 50

étudiant noir, L' (newspaper), 55

Eula (char.), 87, 100–103

Eurocentrism, 22, 24, 26, 234 exile: black diasporic experience rooted in, 3–4; contradictions of, 161–63; hybridizing power of, 155; nationalism and, 142; political turmoil and, 129

exilic experience: arrested national history of, 147; displacement as locus of, 129; as mediated position, 154–55; origin and, 128– 29; and problematics of return, 129–30; trauma of dispersal in, 138–39

exilic identities: formation in the black diaspora, 137; role of conflicting notions of history and memory in, 129

family-centered theoretical practice, 83

Fanon, Frantz: background, 178; binarisms in work by, 181–82; and colonial gaze, 12–13; cultural and political importance of work by, 183–84; examination of theories of, by Julien, 176; and experiences of racism in France, 180–81; in Frantz Fanon, 186–87;
idealization of Algerian revolutionary, 194; importance of works by, 177–78; influence of, 13; lifetime preoccupation of, 179–80;
resurgence in interest in work by, 179

Fanon, Joby, 190
 Fanon, Olivier, 195
 feminisms, 81–82, 94, 261n. 3 fieldworkers, 20–21
 fire, in Rasta belief, 266n. 5
 Flora, Miss (char.), 72 flying back stories, 50
 Foster, Cecil, 228
 Foster, Gwendolyn Audrey, 262n. 10
 France: and Atlantic slave trade, 52; colonial possessions of, 52–53; concept of mission civilisatrice, 110–11; and political myth of equality, 112, 119–20, 122; racism in, 180; and seuil de tolérance theory, 113
 François (char.), 205–6, 216–20
Frantz Fanon: Black Skin, White Mask (Julien), 176–95, 177; overview, 13; aesthetic and narrative strategies of, 192–93; Battle of Algiers scenes in, 192–94; and Fanon's notion of the gaze, 184–85; newsreel footage in, 187–88; as open text, 195; and tensions in Fanon's work, 182; use of reconstructions in, 185–88, 190, 192
 French Antilles, films from (1980s), 61
 French Caribbean, 67
 French culture, 54, 62, 75–76, 111, 115
 French education, in Martinique, 69–71, 74–75
 French Revolution, 112
 Front de Libération Nationale (FLN), 178–79
 Fugitive Slave Act of U.S. (1850), 227
 Garvey, Marcus, 23–24, 130, 231
 Gates, Henry Louis, Jr., 2, 38, 177 gay bashing, in Rude, 243, 246 gaze, the, 12–13, 181, 184–86, 191–92
gens de couleur, 198
 Gerima, Haile: background of, 26–27; Sankofa, 8–9, 26–51
 Ghana, 130–36, 263n. 1
 Gilroy, Paul, 2, 5, 10–11, 17, 104–9
 Gisèle (char.), 205, 218–19
 Glissant, Edouard, 3–4, 56–58, 60, 228
 Gold Coast, 84
 Gracieux (char.), 206–7, 217–22, 265n. 2
 griot, 38, 232, 260n. 8
 Groupe d'Etudes et de Recherches de la Créolophonie (GEREC), 58
 Gullah, as term, 261n. 7
 Gullah culture, 84–86, 89
 Gullah War, 84

Haagar (char.), 87, 96–100, 102

Haas, Elsie, 201

Haiti: divisions among black population of, 201; under Duvalier regime, 218; as first black independent state, 13, 197; and fragmentation of colonialism, 210;
independence of, 200; as plantation society, 198; slave agriculture and crafts in, 199;
social hierarchy, 211; societal disintegration, 219–20; struggle for freedom, 198

Haitian identity, 13–14, 201, 203

Haitian Revolution, 199–200

Hall, Stuart, 188–89, 191

Herzog, Werner, 138

historical dispersals, and pan-diasporic consciousness, 105

historical narratives, mainstream, 227 home, as mythic place of desire, 138

homophobia, 181–83, 243

homosexuality, in Rude, 242–48

Hondo, Med (Mohamed Abid): background,
113–14; Soleil O, 11, 114–26

Honorine (char.), 72–74

hood film genre, 248

hooks, bell, 81–82, 261n. 3

Hudson-Weems, Clenora, 81–82, 89

hybridization, as model for black culture in Canada, 228

Ibo people, 84, 101

identities and identity. see black identities and identity

Illusions (Dash), 86

interracial marriage, 190

"J'ai deux amours" (song), 73

Jamaicans, immigration to Canada by, 227

James, C. L. R., 130–31, 134

JanMohamed, Abdul, 154

Janvier, Madame (char.), 213

Janvier (char.), 206, 208–9, 214–15, 217–23

Jessica (char.), 248–50, 253, 256

Je Suis Martiniquaise (Capécia), 190–91

Joe (char.), 46–49

Johnny (john) (char.), 248, 256

Jordan (char.), 231, 237, 242–48, 256–57

José (char.): education of, 67, 69–70; identity of,
as mediation, 62, 78–79; isolation of, from working community, 70–71; and Miss Flora, 72; portrayal of, 265–66n. 3;

José (char.) (continued): relationship with Médouze, 64; and school in Fort-de-France, 76; story about Médouze, 76–77; and talisman from Médouze, 66

Julien, Isaac: approach to filmmaking, 187–88; background of, 183; Fanon, examination of theories of, 176; Frantz Fanon: Black Skin, White Mask, 13, 176–95; use of transgression in work of, 184–85

Junior (char.), 251

Kandé, Sylvie, 33–36, 46–49

kin-based slavery, 259n. 2 (chap. 1)

Kirke, David, 225

Kongo Kingdom, 84

Korsa, Arku, 135

Kruks, Sonia, 180

Kutu (char.), 41–42

Kwame (char.), 42

L.A. Underground (UCLA film school), 86

labor: commodification of, 4

Lafayette (char.), 39–40, 45

language, as marker of authority, 68

la Pointe, Ali, 192–93

laws, and hierarchy of racial superiority, 20

Léopold (char.), 72–74, 77–78

L'étudiant noir (newspaper), 55

Liberia, 84

lifetime servitude, hereditary, 19

Lion of Judah, in Rude, 231–32, 255

Louverture, François-Dominique Toussaint, 200

Lucy (char.), 47–48

Luke (char.): climax of story of, 256–57; and drug dealing, 253–55; portrayal of, 236; relationship with son, 251–53; structure of story strand of, 249; struggles of, 248–55

Makandal, 265n. 1

Makonnen, Ras Tafari, 156–57. see also Selassie, Haile

Man by the Shore, The (Peck), 196–223, 212, 216; overview, 13–14; and Haitian vs. non-Haitian audience, 203–4; narrative structure of, 201–2, 207–8, 218; open ending of, 223; terror of violence in, 206–8; visual strategies in, 205–6; women as arbiters of resistance in, 219

manumission, 18

map and history, concepts of, in Caribbean experience, 197

maroons, 200, 226

Martinican identities, 61, 66–67

Martinique: color politics in, 55, 62, 71; departmentalization of, 56, 63; French education in, 69; race relations in, complexity of, 71–72; subordination of, to France, 54

Maxine (char.), 231, 236–42, 249, 256–57

Médouze (char.), 64–66, 68–69

Mekuria, Salem, 154–75; background and works by, 160; Deluge, 154–75; and distance of, from origin, 171–72; and Negist (friend), 169–70, 172–73; and Saamra (daughter), 174–75; self reflexive role played by, 164; and Selomon (brother), 168–70, 172–75; in space between Selomon and Negist, 170–71; as subject/participant, 163

Mekuria, Sehin, 173

memory: Abena and, 146–47; arrested, dissociative effects of, 138; of primary loss, exile as, 161–63; in reconstituting cultural identity, 21;

memory (continued): as sole delineator of slavery's time, 38; as system of resistance, 91; violence and, 201

Mengistu, Haile Mariam, 169–70

Mensah, Joseph, 224

menticide, 47

Mercer, Kobena, 181–82

métissage, 196–97, 203

Middle Passage, 8, 16–17, 26, 52 migration, forced, 3–4, 263n. 3

miscegenation, 20

mission civilisatrice, 54, 110–11

mixed race individuals, and white-power apparatus, 67

M'man Tine (char.), 71, 73, 77–78

Mona (char.), 30–32, 34, 42, 49–50. see also Shola (char.)

Muhammed, Bilal, 262n. 9

mulâtre, 14, 198–99, 210–11, 213, 216

mulattos, 46–49, 62, 67, 72–74

Napoleonic code, 112

Nash, Mark, 192–93

natal alienation, 19

Négritude movement: Césaire's involvement in, 54–57; conceptual roots of, 55; contemporization of Zobel's ideology by Palcy, 62; and Créolité, 59; Fanon and, 179–80; origins of, 8; overtones of, in Sugar Cane Alley, 64

Negro, as term, 19

New France, 225

New Queer Cinema, 182

Nkrumah, Kwame, 130–36, 142, 150, 263n. 4 (chap. 5)

Nkrumah Ideological Institute, 141–42

Nkrumahism, 264n. 9

noiriste, 14, 210–11, 213, 216

Normal Films, 183

North Atlantic slave trade, 21–22, 259n. 1 (chap. 1)

Nova Scotia, 225–26

Nunu (char.), 38–43, 48

Ontario, 227

orality, 21, 25, 38, 43, 86. see also African cultures, oral tradition origin, and exilic experience, 128, 138

Padmore, George, 131

Palcy, Euzhan: background, 61; Sugar Cane Alley, 8–9, 60–79

Pan-African conferences, 108 pan-Africanism, 130

pawnship, 259n. 2 (chap. 1)

Peasant, Nana (char.), 87, 90–91, 95–96, 98–102

Peasant family, 91

Peck, Raoul: background of, 201–2; The Man by the Shore, 13–14, 196–223

Peters, John Durham, 128–29

plantation economy, 66, 198

poétique de la relation (cross-cultural poetics), 57

Pontecorvo, Gillo, 192–93

postcolonialism, 111, 263n. 4 (chap. 4)

quadroons, defined, 67

racial polarization, in Haiti, 14, 210

racism: and dehumanization of colonized people, 110, 188–89; and desire, 191–92; DuBois's exploration of, 107–8; in France, 180; ideology of, 53–54; systemic, 3, 36, 112, 119–22

Rankin, Virginia, 230

rape, as metaphor, 221–22

Raphael, Father (char.), 45, 47–49

Rashid (char.), 138, 147–48, 150

Rastafarianism, 231

Red Terror, 160–61, 171, 173, 175

Reese (char.), 248, 250, 255

Regent Park projects, Toronto, 231

Rogers, Tania, 141

Rude (char.), 232–33, 235–36, 241, 245, 249, 257

Rude (Virgo), 224–58, 233, 254; overview, 15–16; awards for, 230–31; crosscutting as organizing principle, 237; emphasis on personal choice in, 238; ethnicities in, 248; gay bashing in, 246; individual responsibility in, 251, 258; lack of character backstory, 237–38; narrative motifs in, 231–32; personal trials of characters, 234–35; plot structure and plotlines, 235–36; and revolutionary rhetoric, 257–58; sparring session in, 247–48

Rue cases-nègres (Black Shack Alley) (Zobel), 61–62, 260n. 1 sacred drummer, in Sankofa, 29, 49–50

Sagoe, Sally, 141

Said, Edward, 128–29, 154

Saint-Domingue (Haiti), 53, 198

Saint Louis (char.), 68–69, 76

Sakumo, 264n. 12

Salmon, Colin, 186–87

sankofa, meaning of, 26, 29

Sankofa (char.), 30–31, 41

Sankofa Film and Video Collective, 183

Sankofa (Gerima), 26–51, 27, 33; overview of, 8–9; African context of slave resistance, 45; backgrounds of characters, 36; as black diasporic imaginary, 26; community solidarity abandoned in, 41–42; confessional scene, 47; focus on women in, 40–41; Lafayette plantation location, 35–36; narrative structure of, 28; slave rebellion, 49; universalized portrayal of African cultures in, 33–34; use of multiple time lines in, 34–35

Sarah (char.): as a child, 205–6; at the convent, 208–9; depiction of, 265–66n. 3 (chap. 8); dream sequence of, 220;

Sarah (char.) (continued): and Duvalierism, 202–4; flashback to birthday party, 215; memories of, 204, 218; narration by, 204–5, 218; as symbol of Haitian identity, 201; trauma of, 222–23

satire, in African oral tradition, 69

Sea Islands, 83–85

Selassie, Haile, 157–59, 167–68

self, devaluation of, 255–56

Seminole Wars, 261–62n. 8

Senegambia, 84

Senghor, Léopold, 54–55, 262–63n. 2

seuil de tolérance theory, 113, 124

Shango (char.), 37, 42–46

Shango (theater company), 114

Shola (char.), 35–37, 39–40, 43–45, 49–51

Sierra Leone, 84

Sierra Leone Company, 226

Sister Suzanne (char.), 208–9 slave cultures, rise of, 20–21 slavery: abolition of, in Martinique, 66; in Africa, 18; aftermath of, in Daughters of the Dust, 86; black diasporic experience rooted in, 3–4; in Canada, 224–26; in the Caribbean, 52; Christianity and, 92; slavery (continued): colonialism compared to, 109–10; destruction of colonizer and colonized through, 56; evolution of institution of, in New World, 20; and forced migration, 263n. 3; Gullah and challenge to, 84; hierarchical structure in, 20–21; kin-based, 259n. 2 (chap. 1); legacies of, 9, 53, 197–98, 201; rise and evolution of, in America, 18–19 slaves: in America, 17; diversity in backgrounds, 36; forced assimilation of, 47; hierarchy of, 36–37; as livestock commodities, 19; of mixed race, 21; resistance by, 45, 49, 199–200; skilled laborers, acculturation of, 21 slave ship figurehead, 262n. 14 slave trade, 18, 21–22, 52, 259n. 1 (chap. 1) slippage: Deluge as site of, 12, 160; between personal and national histories, 164–65, 174; role of, in creation of black identities, 5, 175

Sojourner Truth, 82, 261n. 5

Soleil O (Hondo), 110, 114–26; overview, 11; awards won by, 114; Christian baptism scene in, 115–17; depiction of colonizer's metropolis, 118; effects of colonization on Africa, 115–16;

- Soleil O (Hondo) (continued): focus on migration of Africans to France, 109; housing for migrants, 124; narrative ambiguity in, 121–22; narrative of, 114–15, 123; visual strategies in, 116, 121
- Souls of Black Folk, The (DuBois), 107–8
- spirituality. see African spirituality
- St. Pierre rebellion, 66
- Stono Rebellion (1739), 84
- storytelling, 38, 43
- Studio Museum in Harlem, 85
- Sugar Cane Alley (Palcy), 60–79, 63, 75; overview of, 8–9; compared to Zobel's novel, 62–64, 69; depiction of race relations in, 71–72; grounding of, in Antillanité, 79; narrative locus of, 64; reception of, by Martinican audiences, 62; response to, 61–62
- sugar cane industry, 52–53, 63
- symbolic imagery in African oral tradition, 69
- Syrians, as term, 212
- systemic racism, 3, 36, 112, 119–22
- tableau vivant, as interrogative device, 192
- Takoradi strike, 134–35
- Testament (Akomfrah), 136–53, 139–40; overview, 11–12; aesthetic strategies in, 139–41; autobiographical fragments in, 137; exilic experience and problematics of return in, 129–30; film characters, and Nkrumah's regime, 130; narration of, 141–42; narrative structure of, 142; separation of conjoined twins, 148–49; visual strategies, 141, 152
- third Seminole War (1858), 84
- tonton-makout, 203, 207–8, 214–15
- Toronto, as extension of Babylon, 233–34
- Tortilla (char.), 70–71, 76–77
- Triangle Trade, 17
- triple caste system, 23
- Tubman, Harriet, 226
- unborn child, in Rude, 240–42, 257
- Unborn Child (char.), 87, 94–95, 97, 101–3
- Underground Railroad, 226
- United Gold Coast Convention (U.G.C.C.), 131–32
- United States blockade of Haiti, 200
- Van Der Zee, James, 86
- Vergès, Françoise, 182, 190–92, 194

victim/victimizer, 219–20

Viola (char.), 87, 92–93, 102

violence, effect of, 246–47

Virgo, Clement: Rude, 15–16, 229–58

vulture, as messenger of the ancestors, 29–30

Walcott, Rinaldo, 5, 243, 247, 266–67n. 8–9

water, in Ga culture, 264n. 12

West, Cornel, 3

West African cultures, 85

Western Europe blockade of Haiti, 200

West Indian Domestic Scheme, 227

West Indians, 59, 198

whiteness, 72, 210

white-thinking blacks, 122

Worke, Ato Mola, 174

worldsense, as term, 259n. 2

Wossene, W. Asegedeich, 174

Wretched of the Earth (Fanon), 192–93

Yankee (char.), 248, 250–51, 256

Yellow Mary (char.), 87, 92–93, 100–103

Yeshewawork, W. Negede, 174

Young Soul Rebels (Julien), 183

Zobel, Joseph, 61–62

zombification, 217–19